Would you like to do another drawing? If so, try this:

What is Runner running from or running to? The sculpture is made of simple shapes that are connected to make a figure in action. How many shapes can you count? Compose your drawing of simple shapes.

Also, ask an adult to post a photo of your work on Facebook and tag @wabashvalleyartspaces, or email it to info@wabashvalleyartspaces.com and we will post it on the Art Spaces Instagram page.

This coloring page was created by Wyatt Lawson based on a sculpture by Douglas Kornfeld from Massachusetts. Doug likes to use symbols that people can easily recognize, and a runner is a good choice for this building, where people run, walk, swim and exercise in other ways. He put in special lights across from Runner so people can play with the sculpture through casting their own shadows around it at night. It is located on the Indiana State University campus by the Recreation Center at 601 N. 6th Street.
